Are your coins made with the help of a cluster munitions producer?

Cluster munitions producer Poongsan is a major supplier of coin blanks to countries around the globe. Countries that have joined the ban on cluster munitions buy coin blanks from Poongsan for the production of their national coins. These states should not do business with a company that is involved with the production of internally banned weapons.

Find out more here and urge your Mint to stop doing business with Poongsan!
